India does not have a diaspora engagement policy.

¹ UNDESA data is collected on the premise that international migrants are the number of people living in a country other than that of their citizenship. MEA emigration numbers include both NRI's and OCI holders. This distinction means that data from the MEA and UNDESA vary. According to the MEA, there are 32.1 million Indians abroad: http://mea.gov.in/images/attach/NRIs-and-PIOs_1.pdf

² Rankings presented here is on the basis of data available on the Indian Ministry of External Affairs website and covers only non-resident Indians currently present in the country.

³ However, since 2005, India has a program called Overseas Citizens of India (OCI) Introduced by The Citizenship (Amendment) Act of 2005

The first category, Non-Resident Indians (NRI), refers to Indian citizens holding an Indian passport living and/or working in another country. To maintain one's NRI status, one must be in India for less than 182 days (during the relevant financial year)⁵.

The second category, Overseas Citizens of India (OCI), offers a privileged life-long status and continued relationship with India for those who have adopted another nationality and had to forfeit their Indian citizenship.⁶ Former NRI's and their families (spouses of foreign origin, child, grandchild, or a great grandchild of a citizen) are eligible if the person is not, or has never been, a citizen of Pakistan and/or Bangladesh. Overview of the policy and legislative framework

- 1967 ● The Passports Act is an Act to provide for the issue of passports and travel documents, to regulate the departure from India of citizens of India and other persons and related support⁷.
- 1983 ● The Emigration Act⁸ was enacted in the specific context of large-scale emigration of Indian workers to the Gulf region and mainly addresses the interest of Indian migrant workers by regulating overseas employment and recruitment. It also established the need for Emigration Clearance, a Protector General of Emigrants (PGE), and Protectors of Emigrants.
- 2016 ● The India-EU Common Agenda for Migration and Mobility (Camm) is a comprehensive framework for cooperation on migration management between the EU and India. One objective is to harness the contribution of migrants to the economy of destination countries as well as countries of origin, facilitating the secure and cost-effective flow of remittances and their development effect, supporting diaspora networks, and optimising the benefits of return.⁹

Bilateral social security agreements have been established with various countries to protect the interest of expatriate workers and the companies on a reciprocal basis. The Ministry of External Affairs has signed twenty bilateral Social Security Agreements.¹⁰

5 According to the Finance Act 2020 as of 2020-2021 this has been reduced to 120 days for NRI's whose income is greater than 1.5 million INR.

6 The Overseas Citizenship of India (OCI) Scheme was introduced by amending the Citizenship Act, 1955, in August 2005 and launched in 2006 at the Pravasi Bharatiya Divas convention

7 <https://www.refworld.org/docid/3ae6b55910.html>. In honour of the 53rd anniversary of the Passports Act, the Ministry of External Affairs announced that its focus for 2020 is to strengthen outreach efforts, taking passport services closer to their citizens. Additionally, the passport issuance system has been integrated into 70 missions worldwide thereby simplifying the rules and procedures for NRI's abroad. Further steps are foreseen to leverage the use of modern technology i.e. issuance of biometric passports, integration and use of the mPassport Seva app for all steps related to the renewal and/or acquiring of a passport. <https://www.mea.gov.in/Speeches-Statements.htm?dtl/32781/Address+by+Minister+of+State+for+External+Affairs+on+Passport+Seva+Divas+2020> ; <https://www.newindianexpress.com/nation/2020/jun/24/we-intend-to-open-passport-seva-kendras-in-every-lok-sabha-constituency-says-eam-jaishankar-2160825.html>

8 <https://www.refworld.org/docid/3ae6b5318.html>. A draft emigration bill is on the horizon and focuses on establishing new legislative provisions and measures, including an Emigration Management Authority, Bureau of Emigration Administration, and nodal authorities at the state level. Also included are additional provisions for the welfare and protection of diaspora - specifically migrant workers - abroad. » Trends

Overseas Indians are the largest diaspora in the world¹¹ and sent 82.2 billion USD$ (equalling approximately 3% of India's GDP and forming a quarter of the country's foreign reserves) in 2019 to India. Within the European context, most remittances are sent from the UK, Italy, and Ireland.

Indian State and local officials are exhibiting greater awareness towards mobility (intra- and inter-) and their diaspora communities worldwide. Political engagement between India and its diaspora is actively being sought after: the 2019 national elections saw heavy NRI participation in both the campaigning process and during the national election¹².

The Government of India has put in place the necessary institutional support for NRIs and OCIs to maximise their global success in countries of destination, whilst embracing the diversity of contributions to their communities of origin. Increasingly, state authorities have established dedicated ministries and departments to manage migration. The state government of Kerala was the first state to realise the significance (and potential of emigration) for the state economy and therefore created a dedicated department in 1996 called the Non-Resident Keralite Affairs (NORKA). Similarly, the Andhra Pradesh Non-Resident Society was established in 2016. The government of Andhra Pradesh has also passed the AP Migrants' Welfare Policy. Since then, many other state governments (e.g. Punjab) have come forward to develop a migration policy dedicated to capturing the potential benefits and minimising the risks of migration.

» Achievements

The 2005 OCI scheme has boosted India's connectivity with its diaspora. Individuals with Indian heritage are able to retain their foreign citizenship while simultaneously enjoying rights that are conferred to Indian citizens (with a few exceptions). Consequently, the Indian economy is now able to hire OCI cardholders, who enjoy a multiple entry, multipurpose visa to visit India, sparing them the need to obtain separate work permits for life.

India's foreign policy actively develops partnerships with diaspora communities for key projects. For example, the Government of India set up the India Development Foundation of Overseas Indians (IDF-OI)¹³ in 2008 as a not-for-profit Trust to facilitate Overseas Indian philanthropy into social and development projects in India. IDF-OI's present mandate is to promote the following projects for funding by Overseas Indians: Government of India's flagship programmes – National Mission for Clean Ganga and Swachh Bharat Mission and social and development projects identified by State Governments. Priority sectors are the following: education, sanitation, healthcare, women's empowerment and sustainable livelihood.

The Indian diaspora globally act as 'agents of change' facilitating and enhancing investment back home (reverse brain drain), accelerating industrial development, and boosting international trade. With a booming Indian economy, these agents of change have begun to return, contributing to the rapid urbanisation of India and the development of India's own Silicon City: Bangalore/Bengaluru and Gurgaon. Websites such as <https://backtoindia.com> have made the physical return home easier.

Skilled Workers Arrival Database for Employment Support (SWADES; June 2020 - ongoing)

To ensure returnees have opportunities for post-return employment, the Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship (MSDE), under the Skill India Mission, has partnered with the Ministry of Civil Aviation (MoCA) and the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) and created a database of qualified citizens – based on skillsets and experience. Under the SWADES programme, returning citizens are required to fill up a SWADES skill form following which a SWADES skill card is issued. The Ministry then shares the collected information with companies for suitable placement opportunities in the country.
