Action for South-South Cooperation (ASSC) on migration with Morocco, Mali and Côte d'Ivoire

The General Directorate of Support to Senegalese Abroad (DGASE) is an operational structure of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Senegalese Abroad (MAESE) and works within the framework of its missions to ensure that the concerns of Senegalese abroad are taken into account. MAESE work follows three principles: assistance, protection and promotion. DGASE encourages and accompanies initiatives aimed at the development of migrants' regions of origin, and it is also responsible for developing mechanisms for their economic, social and cultural reintegration.

Objective(s)

ACSS aims to: strengthen regional governance in the field of migration between Morocco, Côte d'Ivoire, Mali and Senegal. The institutional partners have succeeded in concretising this institutional commitment at the operational level with pilot activities and actions for the benefit of the populations through partnerships with civil society actors, academics and private sector actors in three areas: Migration & development, protection of women migrants' rights and South-South Mobility.

Main activities

1) Activities to enhance the knowledge of actors involved in South-South Cooperation on specific themes; 2) Developing the skills of key actors and creating platforms for dialogue; 3) Strengthening the networks of stakeholders fostering ownership of the results by the actors to ensure sustainability; 4) A comprehensive and detailed mapping of Malian, Senegalese, Ivorian and Moroccan emigrants in OECD countries.

(Expected) Results

Consolidated networks and increased specific knowledge for all stakeholders involved.
